time; which is all the income this deponant has for her support, and the remainder of this deponants living is derived from the charity of her children and friends who are also poor. This deponant is now 78 years of age of sound and good mind; but in feeble health and unable to labor and so helpless that she requires the help of a female servant to take care of her continually. From the time of this deponants marriage with said Samuel Short until his death said Short with the exception of a very few years was out of health and not able to labor, poor and destitute of property and was supported mostly by the daily labor of this deponant and her children with the exception of said pension which was not one half sufficient to supply him & his family with the necessaries of life. Said Short and this deponant have raised a family of 11 children all of whom are poor and have no property over and above their own necessary living and are not able to do much if any thing for the support of this deponant.

This deponant therefore humbly petitions that she may be permitted to recieve the pension of said Samuel Short from and after his death during her life together with his back pay from the time of his discharge from the Army until he commenced drawing his pension as aforesaid making about 49 years at $80. a year, amounting to $3900. besides interest, on the 21st of March 1848.

Lee Short’s long memory

By Claude Rose

Lee Short will tell you he’s been around almost as long as Otsego Lake, and that he can tell you stories about Cooperstown as long as you want to listen.

He’s right. On both counts.

Lee’s a tough little cuss, probably about 5-foot-7, and maybe 150 pounds, with a twinkle in his eye that still charms the ladies, and a back as straight as a Marine guard. Must have been quite a charmer in the nickelodeon days. He reminded me several times yesterday that he’d be 96 on Sept. 16, adding slyly that “nothing much of me works anymore.”

“First it was my head, and then I had a little ticker trouble, and now my legs are starting to go.”

In the next breath, however, he admitted that he had mowed his lawn yesterday morning, and liked to walk downtown when the weather was decent.

This guy is sharp like a fox. He reads the Daily Star every day from cover-to-cover (“Don’t have much else to do”), and knows what’s going on everyplace from here to Tacoma and back. ‘What are they going to do with that fellow who broke out of Camp Summit?” he said.

“And what do you think about Reagan? They going to keep him in? Did you see that awful picture of him in the paper yesterday? Jowls all hanging down like that. He oughtn’t to have let them take that one. Watched that fellow on Death Valley Days a good many times.”

I met Lee coming out of the bank a couple of weeks ago, and made a mental note to go see him when the Otsego County Fair was about to open. I wanted him to reminisce about when he was a kid, and the fair was held in Cooperstown.

“Ohh, sure, I used to live up on Eggleston Hill in those days, and I’d walk about five miles to the fair with a quarter in my pocket,” he said.

Lee was born in 1888 and spent the first 15 years of his life on a farm up there on the hill, above Beaver Meadow Road, in the town of Middlefield.

“Sometimes I’d come to the fair with my father and mother. The grounds were over where the hospital is now.

“We’d take a picnic basket with corn on the cob, and deviled eggs and such, and we’d sit around an oak tree and eat lunch. It’s was a place to get together with other farmers and gab about crops, and other farm talk.

“They had a ferris wheel and a merry-go-round. I think the rides cost a nickel. But it was different then. We didn’t have tractor pulls and such things to bring the crowd in.” I asked how long it had been since he’d been up on Eggleston Hill.

“Oh, a good long time. I’ll have to take you up there and show you around some time.”

“How’d you like to go right now?”

“Sure,” he said, forgetting his feigned ailments.

“Anything to take a ride and get out of the house.” As we rode out Susquehanna Avenue, he began to point out landmarks and to describe who lived there in days gone by.

At Elm and Susquehanna, he pointed to a house on the corner. “That was where they had the first generating plant in the village,” he said. “What a racket it made! You could hear it for four blocks.”

Nearing the Iroquois Farm, he recalled the days when he was employed by the Clarks.

“I worked for Ambrose Clark for 11 years,” he said. “I was in the paint shop, which was right over there,” pointing to a cornfield.

“’Brose was all thick through here (pointing to his midsection) and had small legs, probably from riding horses so much.

“One day, Old Pete Delaney wanted a radiator in the office painted gold. We put a couple of undercoats on it, then put a finish coat of gold on it.

“ When we were done, Pete said: ‘That’s just what I wanted.’

“Then winter came, and they put the heat on, and the whole thing turned brown. It looked awful. Pete never got over that.”

As we rode over Beaver Meadow Road, Lee’s thoughts went back to his childhood days.

“That was the Hunter place. They were prominent people. Good church people. Presbyterians. They raised a lot of hops. This whole road up through here was all hops.

“And there was the McLean place, and the Uphams lived in that house. Turn left here and go up Eggleston Hill. Ohh, the road looks good.

“It’s hard for me to recognize things. I moved off the hill in 1903, you know. Things have changed. There used to be a barn right behind those elms. Built in 1884.”

At the crossroads, he exclaimed: “Oh, that’s where I went to school. There used to be an outhouse right next to it.”

We rode through the dirt roads, and back down Sibley Gulf

Road, where Lee saw Sibley’s Pond for the first time in years. ‘You like a good story?” he said. I assured him I did, hoping to hear some colorful anecdotes about Cooperstown in days gone by.

Then Lee began to tell “stories”, many of which I’d hesitate to repeat here. After about half a dozen, interspersed with his commentary about points along the way, I said:

“Lee, do you realize you’ve told me all these stories, and there isn’t one I can print?”

“OK, how about this one. This is a lady’s joke. There was a priest who bought a Cadillac and went down the street to take a minister for a ride.

“The priest said: ‘You go ahead and get behind the wheel.’

“Well, the minister drove along, and he scraped the fender against a culvert and took off some paint. They both got out and took a look.

“The minister said: ‘If it wasn’t Friday, I’d say something you might not want to hear.’

“And the priest said: ‘If it wasn’t Friday, I’d take a bite out of your hide!’

“You go ahead and print that and see if we don’t both end up in jail. I’d have a good time there, too. I have a good time wherever I am.

“You know, people are just too far apart. You’ve got to have a good time in this world. If people weren’t so far apart, countries wouldn’t be so far apart either.”

HE DROPPED DEAD

Dr. Uriah M. Short Passed Away Suddenly Last Night.

Dr. Uriah M. Short dropped dead last night at his residence, 156 South Division street. He was in his usual health, apparently, during the day and ate a hearty supper. About 9 o'clock he went upstairs to speak to a roomer, but fell on his face as he reached the door of the room. Dr. Burleson, who lives just across the street, was called, but found that death had been almost instantaneous, with symptoms of apoplexy.

Dr. Short was 51 years old and had been a resident of Grand Rapids for twenty-five years. He leaves a widow but no children. At the request of the widow Coroner Luton was summoned and it was decided to hold a post mortem today to determine the cause of death.

Coroner Luton held the postmortem this forenoon and found the cause of death to be cerebral apoplexy, resulting from a disease of the blood vessels of the brain.

OBITUARY.

Died, at the Residence of Mr. D. Smith, on Clifford Street, yesterday morning, the 10th inst., of heart disease, MRS. ELIZA SHORT, of Margaret Street, aged sixty-five years.

Deceased came to Flint when but thirteen years old, and married Mr. Amasa Short in Grand Blanc, when but seventeen years of age. They went to a new farm in Burton, where she raised her seven children, and resided until some years after her husband's death in California, in 1865. She purchased her home on Margaret Street thirteen years since, and moved to this City. Deceased had been visiting at Mrs. Smith's, and was in apparent good health half an hour previous to her death on Friday morning. She got up and dressed, but dropped into a chair and passed to the better land ere medical aid could be had. She was a lady highly respected, and her death is a sudden shock to her many friends. Four children survive her—Mrs. James Thomas of Byron, N. Y., Mrs. Henry Rose of Kalkaska, Mrs. Jacob Clark of Genesee, and Mr. Nelson Short of Saginaw County. The funeral will be held on Sunday, and the remains will be taken to Whigville for interment.

The Late A. Babcock.

The funeral of Mr. Abaelino Babcock, at Court Street M. E. Church, on Sunday, was very largely attended. The funeral discourse was preached by Rev. H. W. Hicks, of Grand Blanc. Mr. Babcock was born in Otsego County, N. Y., and was in his sixty-fourth year. He was twice married, and leaves a widow and eleven children survivors. He lost a son in the army, and two other children died. We knew him long and intimately; and had many proofs of his worth as a man and a christian. One who knew him still better, says:

He came to Michigan about forty years ago, and settled in Rochester, Oakland County. After a residence there of two years he moved to the Township of Davison in this County, where he lived for seven years, when he moved a mile west into that part of the Township of Flint which has since been set off as Burton. There he has since lived except during a brief residence in this City a few years ago, until he again moved into the City some weeks before his death. He buried his first wife nine years ago, and was married to his present widow about seven years since.

He lived to see this County, with whose interests he was intimately identified, emerge from the wilderness into a thickly settled, well improved, wealthy country. He was successfully engaged most of the time in farming, and by his thrift and industry had secured a fair competence of worldly good. His judgment and integrity won for him the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was generous and impulsive, warm and sincere, in his attachments and friendships. He was an earnest and devoted christian, having been a member of the Methodist Church for about thirty years; and was eminently successful as a Sabbath School Superintendent. He was positive and conscientious in his convictions, and faithful to all the interests of the church committed to his care. In his family he was a tender and affectionate husband and father, whose presence always made home happy.

WILLIAM GOLDEN

William Golden was born 7 Auguast 1870 at Oak Harbor, Ottawa County, Ohio, the only child of Seth Golden and his first wife, Henrietta Dugan. Seth served with the Fifty-fifth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry from 1864 to 1867 when he was discharged with a musket mini-ball lodged near his spine. Seth and Henrietta married 25 March 1867 at Ottawa County courthouse against the wishes of his parents, Isaiah and Sarah Ann (Short) Golden.

Henrietta Dugan, born 1845 in Ohio of French extraction, was disliked by the Golden family members. One cold, wintery night she was asked to leave the Golden household; carrying her little two year old son, William, she walked many miles to her sister's home to seek shelter. Within a short time she died of frostbite infection. The young boy then took the name of Billy Bradshaw (Bradshaw being the surname of his aunt and uncle) until his marriage, at that time assuming his legal name. Further research is needed on the Dugan and Bradshaw families but, Mary Dugan, born 1815 in Vermont, was running a boarding house in 1860, Danbury township, Ottawa County, with the help of her daughters, Mary, age 17 years, Henrietta, 15 years, and Nancy, 9 years old.

As a young man, William Golden, was a commercial fisherman, cooked for a railroad gang and did most any odd jobs for times were hard and jobs were scarce. On 25 Feb. 1892 at the Peace Lutheran Church in Port Clinton, William married Sophia Catharine Carstens, daughter of Johann Jacob Carstensen and Sophia Catharine Andresen of Niebull, Germany. Young Sophia came to America as a little girl with her foster parnts, Adolph and Ingeburg Neilsen; her mother had died the night she was born in 1872.

William and Sophia had four children; Franklin, Nellie, and Florence, all born in Port Clinton, Ottawa County and Irene who was born on Catawba Island where the father was employed in the vineyards. Later the family moved to Fremont, Sandusky County where William found factory employment and life became much easier.

Florence Isabella Golden married Howard Monroe Hampsher, son of Lester and Nellie Mae (Smith) Hampsher on 17 June 1917 in Monroe, Michigan, and issues of this union were: William Lester (died at birth), Billy Howard, James Lester, Earl Eugene, Elizabeth Jane, Mary Lou, and Shirley Ann.

Sarah Ann Short, William Golden's grandmother, was born 26 April 1830, the daughter of Oliver and Clarissa Ruth (Grummon) Short who married 23 Feb. 1820 in Otesgo County, New York. Their roots were in early Killingly, Ct; later New York, Michigan, and about 1843 settled in Ottawa County, Ohio. Death came to Oliver in the spring of 1844 but his wife, Clarissa lived to be 92 years old. They had nine children, Clarissa Ann, Esther Elizabeth, Oliver Austin, Sarah Ann, Mary Ann, Amasa C., Charles Edmond, Euretta, and John, who was just a baby when his father died. Clarissa (Grummon) Short remarried three times: Soloman Streeter, ______ Chapman and Chalon Meeker. Many of their descendants are still living in Ottawa County today. Submitted by Mrs. C.R. Yaw
